

IQ for Education

Cognassist Partnership

One unified, end-to-end inclusion management system that transforms how you identify needs, evidence impact, and fund support.

One in three learners have an unidentified learning need, yet for most providers the challenge is not a lack of commitment to inclusion but fragmented processes. Learners self-disclose or arrive with a prior diagnosis, but the majority who need support go undetected, support plans are written inconsistently, and when inspectors ask for evidence of active oversight, it simply is not there.

What is the IQ for Education and Cognassist partnership?

Cognassist is a digital cognitive assessment platform designed by neuropsychologists and education practitioners. It measures nine cognitive domains, including memory, processing speed, attention and reasoning, to build a precise picture of how each learner thinks and learns, automatically generating personalised support plans and an audit-ready evidence base for Ofsted compliance and ALN/LSF claims.

Through this partnership, Cognassist is now embedded directly into IQ for Education's Apprenticeship Management and LMS (PICS) intelligent workflows, so learners are assessed at registration, reports appear in the learner record, and inclusion support becomes part of the standard journey with no separate login or parallel process to maintain.

Key Benefits

- Identify cognitive needs at registration, not after a complaint
- Give leaders real-time oversight of inclusion across the provision
- Reduce workload with automated personalised support plans
- Deliver audit-ready evidence for Ofsted inspections at any time
- Recover ALN/LSF funding with a live view of eligibility & evidence
- Embed inclusive practice at scale with no extra admin burden
- Connect assessment, support & evidence in one system
- Remove reliance on self-disclosure with cognitive assessment

The Complete Inclusion Journey, Unified

From first registration to ongoing review, Cognassist supports every stage:

- Automated assessment enrolment at registration
- Nine-domain cognitive assessment
- Personalised support plan generation
- Reasonable adjustments guidance for tutors
- Inclusion Intelligence Dashboards
- ALN/LSF funding eligibility; ClaimCapture
- Ofsted audit-ready evidence trails
- APDR cycle documentation
- Whole-provision inclusion reporting

How the integration works across your provision

Automated Assessment Enrolment

When a learner registers on IQ for Education, they are automatically enrolled for a Cognassist cognitive assessment. No referrals, no manual steps, no reliance on self-disclosure. Every learner is assessed as standard, making proactive identification the default across your organisation.

Personalised Support Plans at Scale

Assessment results feed directly into personalised support plans, generated automatically and aligned to the full Assess, Plan, Do, Review (APDR) cycle. Tutors receive structured guidance on reasonable adjustments without needing specialist expertise. This ensures consistent, high-quality support for every learner.

Audit-Ready Evidence in One Place

All inclusion data, evidence and audit trails are captured centrally within the learner record. Whether your team faces an Ofsted inspection or an ALN/LSF funding claim, the evidence is ready and retrievable at any time. No retrospective evidence-building, no memory-dependent responses to inspectors.

Inclusion Intelligence Dashboards

Leaders get a real-time, whole-provision view of identification rates, support delivery and learner progress. ClaimCapture shows ALN/LSF eligibility and evidence completeness before the funding window closes, so your teams can recover costs they are entitled to rather than absorbing them.

Seamless Integration in One System

There is no extra system to manage, no separate login, and no parallel process for your teams to maintain. Cognassist is embedded directly into IQ for Education's Apprenticeship Management and LMS (PICS) intelligent workflows, so inclusion support is simply part of how your provision already works.

Proven Across the Sector

Cognassist has supported more than 400,000 learners and helped providers through more than 250 DfE and Ofsted audits. The platform is independently validated by Patoss. Combined with IQ for Education's 30-year track record across 1,000+ training providers and 95% of FE colleges.

Proven Results

- Over 400,000 learners supported by Cognassist
- 250+ DfE and Ofsted audits successfully navigated
- Independently validated by Patoss for accuracy and robustness
- Automated identification makes proactive inclusion the standard
- ALN/LSF funding recovery with ClaimCapture evidence tracking

Part of the IQ for Education Intelligent System of Work

Integrated

Cognassist is integrated directly into IQ for Education by OneAdvanced, which is an Intelligent System of Work that connects your people, data and workflows so inclusion support becomes part of how your organisation already operates, not a separate process to manage.

Intelligent

Cognitive assessment, personalised support plans and inclusion dashboards are embedded directly into your IQ for Education workflows, not bolted on. AI-generated support plans, automated enrolment and real-time ClaimCapture insights surface the right information at the right moment, freeing staff to focus on learners rather than administration.

Connected

Cognassist connects seamlessly across the IQ for Education system, so assessment data, support evidence and ALN/LSF funding records flow through one coherent system of work, eliminating silos and keeping every learner's journey joined up from registration to completion.

Trusted

A secure, resilient platform with UK data sovereignty, enterprise-grade cyber protection, and sector-aligned compliance at its core. Cognassist is independently validated by Patoss and has supported providers through more than 250 DfE and Ofsted audits. Combined with OneAdvanced's 30+ years of education expertise and the trust of 95% of FE colleges, you can evidence inclusion with confidence at any time.
